

un film
à la patte

4 rue Pierre Bucher
F-67000 Strasbourg
09 80 39 10 53
contact@unfilmalapatte.fr

CLIMATE CHANGE: THE BRAIN PARADOX

A 52' documentary written and directed by Raphaël Hitier co-written by S. Deleule based on an original idea from O. de Schutters and N. Sayde

Produced by Un film à la patte for ARTE France
International distribution: ZED

Expected delivery date: Summer 2021

logline

Why are our brains wired to ignore climate change? With a humorous yet comprehensive approach, this scientific investigation decodes the behavioral mechanisms that explain this kind of collective schizophrenia and offers a new approach to one of the thorniest questions of our time.

summary

We have never been so aware of the risk of collapse due to climate change. And yet, it seems we are unable to make the collective change the situation seems to demand.

How can we explain our collective inertia in the face of the ongoing environmental crisis? Why can't our brain process global warming?

This scientific investigation decodes the behavioral mechanisms which explain this collective «schizophrenia» through eye-opening experiences.

With a comprehensible approach, the latest advances in neuroscience, behavioral psychology and anthropology will reveal the surprising cognitive bias, contradictions, and fears we harbor when it comes to changing our lifestyles, and may even help us to overcome them.

